

Our Dead.

BRALLIER.—Feb. 26, 1895, at Salisbury, Pa., sister Cora Brallier, aged 21 years and 2 months. The departed sister was the much beloved and only daughter of brother and sister G. W. Brallier of Berlin, Pa. The seemingly untimely death is peculiarly sad in the fact that she took sick and died while away from home on a visit to her only brother, John J. who is principal of the Salisbury schools. In this sad bereavement, the family lose a kind and loving child; the community one of its highly esteemed and accomplished young ladies, and the church and Sunday-school a consistent and helpful member. Sister Cora was our organist and a sweet singer. Our loss is her great gain. She died in the triumphs of living faith, rational to the end. She made all arrangements, selecting the hymns to be sung, naming her pall-bearers, etc. Her admonitions to friends and associates were marvelously wonderful, wholesome, Christian counsel. All that medical skill could do was of no avail. That dread disease quick consumption, in fourteen weeks consumed the mortal man. We pray the benediction of our heavenly Father to comfort the hearts of the bereaved friends. Funeral services by the writer. "Let me die the death of the righteous and let my last end be like his."

KAGEY.—March 2, 1895, David Kagey, aged 48 years and 16 days. He leaves a wife and four children to mourn his loss. Brother Kagey was afflicted with some disease of the stomach, not definitely known to the physicians, and suffered, more or less, for many years, but not until the last six weeks of his life did his case become alarming. His body was followed to its last resting place by a very large concourse of people, showing the high esteem in which he was held. Funeral services by the writer from Acts 20: 24.

J. L. KIMMEL.

JENNIE.—Feb. 15, 1895, J. M. Jennie aged 65 years, 11 months and 22 days. Deceased was a member of the Lutheran church. Funeral conducted by the writer, from John 11: 28, at the residence of deceased, four miles northwest of Adrian, Mo.

MESSLER.—Friday, March 1, 1895, at his home in Falls City, Neb., of paralysis, Elder Lafayette Messler, aged 56 years, 10 months and three days. Brother Messler was born in Springborough, Ohio. removed to Indiana with his parents in 1853. Was married to Elizabeth Sparks in 1859. Removed to Nebraska in 1868 where he resided up to the time of his death. He served as a soldier in the 101st Indiana, during the rebellion. Shortly after his removal to Nebraska he united with the Brethren church and remained faithful until death. While not actively engaged in the ministry, having the cares of his farm to look after, he occasionally filled my appointments when absent, very acceptably. He was a good neighbor and a respected citizen. As an evidence of the esteem in which he was held out by the community, our large house was crowded, although a very stormy day. He leaves a widow and four children living, five having preceded him to the beyond. He was followed to the tomb by the Falls City Post of which he was a member, and was buried in harmony with their ritual or burial service which was very impressive. We extend our sympathy to the widow and children who have lost a kind husband and indulgent father. Sermon by the pastor, assisted by E. L. Yoder.

THE NEW COAT.

An Indian and a white man were brought under conviction by the same sermon. The Indian was shortly after led to rejoice in pardoning mercy. The white man remained much longer in distress, but was at last brought to know the love of Christ. Some time after, meeting the Indian, he said to him, "How is it that I should be so long under conviction, when you found comfort so soon?"

"Oh, brother," replied the Indian, "me tell you. There came along a rich prince. He propose to give you a new coat. You look at your coat, and say, 'I don't know; my coat pretty good. I think it will do a little longer.' He then offer me new coat. I look on my old blanket. I say, 'This good for nothing.' I fling it right away and accept the beautiful garment. Just so, brother, you try to keep your own righteousness for some time; but I, poor Indian, had none. I glad to receive the righteousness of the Lord Jesus Christ."
